Geta

I will tell you about traditional Japanese shoes called geta. Geta is "Geta," and "Zouri" in Japanese. Geta came from Japan. Japanese people used to wear geta every day four hundred years ago, but we don't wear them every day now. Japanese people use them in events, for example "Shichigosan" and festivals. The Shichigosan festival is one of the most traditional festivals in Japan. It is a festival for children of three, five and seven years of age. They usually wear kimono and geta. Geta feel smooth and bumpy. They look heavy, but they are actually very light. They are normally brown or black. Geta are made of wood. Worn geta are called Japanese wooden clogs in English. I hope that you are going to wear geta, if you come to Japan.
