

School Event

At my school, there is a culture festival called the Reiho Festival. The word "rei" means "Reitaku" and "ho" means "big bird". It is held in the middle of September. It is one of my favorite school events. In the essay, I am going to tell you about the culture festival and why I like this school event.

First, I am going to tell you about what students do on the culture festival. There are three days. Before the culture festival, high school students decorate their classrooms. For example they make signs and decorate their classroom. Junior high school students do presentations about Japanese culture at the culture festival day. After that, we clean our school. We clean our classroom or outside.

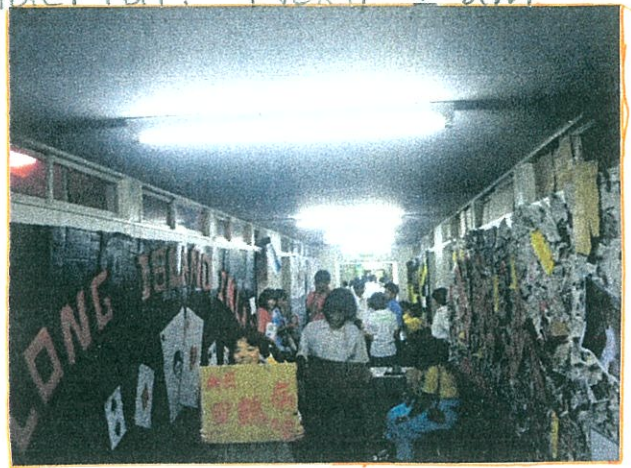

There are many have to do on the culture festival.

Next, I am going to tell you about why I like this school event. First, I like Brass band's performance.

Their performance is wonderful. Next, I am looking forward to seeing high school students shops.

For example food shops, haunted house, and movie theater etc. It is very interesting. Last, I like the last day. Final has lots of programs. The finale is interesting.

I look forward to finale.

In conclusion, the Reiho Festival is one of my favorite school events. It makes me happy. Prepare is difficult, so I don't like it. I look forward to the Brass band's performance seeing high school students shops, and the final. The Reiho Festival is full of fun things.
